DAVID IN THE SPIRAL

Al principio David se sentía bien dentro de la espiral. Con el paso del tiempo empezó a notarse incómodo, hasta se reconoció un poco triste. Enseguida trató de olvidarlo para no entristecerse más. Para que esa tristeza no volviera David pensó que no le importaba quedarse dentro de la espiral, que era mejor vivir allí con el saltamontes, la libélula y el caracol.

At first David felt good inside the spiral. But as time went by, he began to feel uncomfortable, and even knew that he was a little sad. Suddenly, he tried to forget so as not to become sadder. So that this sadness wouldn't come back, David thought that he didn't care if he stayed inside the spiral, that it was better to live there with the grasshopper, the dragonfly and the snail.
